“ Johnny could peel a potato better than anyone I had ever seen. He always said that I peeled to slow and too much. He also made wonderful stuffed peppers. He went to church with me just so he could hear Ryan Rogers preach. He loved listening to church in his truck. He sent me a card that he made with praying hands. He could work with wood and build anything. While in the nursing unit, we would hold hands and pray. He shed tears and he said that he was okay. I know Arnold has a brother-in-law with him , and they are waiting for Tammie and me to join them 🙏 What a meeting in the air 🙏
