“ I was blessed this past year to spend several days with her, we cooked and ate and talked together I always enjoyed her story where I was sick and in the hospital and nobody could do anything to calm me down except for her! She had told this story over and over but I never got tired of it. The opportunities I had to spend the day with her will live on in my mind as long as I live! She loved family with all her heart she was happiest when feeding you her food she prepared herself! Loved eating her food because it was made with love!
